PORTE IS WARNED OF CONSEQUENCES

Should Turkey Invade Egypt She Will Have to Fight Allies.

ACTION IN BIACK SEA.

Moslem Ambassador Still at Petrograd Endeavoring to Bring About an Understanding.

London, Oct. 31—Diplomatic representatives of the allied powers at Constantinople are today arranging for their departure, following the call of the British ambassador on the grand vizier to inform him that if Egypt is invaded Turkey will have to fight the Entente powers.

It is the belief that Turkey has been ready to invade Egypt for some weeks.

Despite the sinking of the Russian gunboat Donets, the damaging of several other vessels, and the destruction of much property in Odessa harbor and the other acts by the Turks, reported from various Black Sea points, the Turkish government has not assumed official responsibility.

The Turkish ambassador at last accounts remained in Petrograd and was reported to be endeavoring to influence his government to disavow the action of its warships and to preserve peace by promising an indemnity. And the diplomatic representatives of Great Britian and France as Constantinople were reported to be making it plain to the Sultan and his advisers that war with Russia of necessity meant war with the allies.

There is, however, only the slightest ray of hope that Turkey will be kept out of war. The young Turks are admittedly in control. They are fanatically pro-German, and they believe that Turkey's only hope of resuming her place in the Sun is to throw her weight with Germany and Austria.

TURKEY'S WAR FORCES

300,000 Trained Men and 400,000 Irregular Troops.

Washington, Oct. 31—The full war strength of Turkey's army is 300,000 trained men, according to satisfac- here, but in addition it is believed that here are about 400,000 irregulars some of whom actually have joined the army, while the rest are ready to do so.

The regular army is composed of 13 army corps, most of which are in Turkey in Asia. The infantry is said now to be the strongest branch. The artillery lost many of its guns during the recent Balkan war.

Turkey's naval strength consnst of three battleships, four cruisers, three torpedo gunboats, ten destroyers, ten boats, a coast defense ship and some auxiliary craft. The battleships are old and none have guns larger than eleven inches.

Two of the four cruisers are the Goeben and Breslau, recently secured from Germany.

The ten destroyers range from 266 to 610 tons and from 25 to 35 knots. four being of the highest speed. The ten torpedo boats range from 124 to 167 tons and are of 26 to 27 knots in speed. The oldest was laid in 1901.

The 28 small gunboats range from 185 to 502 tons. The personnel of the navy, according to latest information available here, consist of six vice and eleven rear admirals, 208 captains, 289 commanders, 228 lieutenants, 187 ensigns, 30,000 sailors and 9,000 machines.

Tomorrow being the first Sunday of the month, Holy Communion will be celebrated in all the churches of the city.

NEWS OF THE DAY

Gen. Ameglio, governor of Cyrenaika, has sent a report to the Italian government setting forth the critical situation in the Italian African colonies owing to the Pan Islam movement fomented by the Germans and the Turks among the Arabs.

There have been great manifestations in Damascus, in Asiatic Turkey, in favor of a war against Christians, and especially against Great Britain, according to a dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph Company from Athens.

The death of his mother, Mrs Mary M. Brush, of Sideburn, Va., so distressed her son, William W. Brush, thirty-two years old, that after going to Fairfax to make arrangements for his mother's funeral he returned to his home and cut his throat with a razor. He was found dead on the back porch of his home.

Four hundred Irishmen, from 16 to 25 years old, came over from Queenstown in a body on the steamer Cedric, which reached New York yesterday. They declined to say if they had come to America rather than enlist in the British army, but did say they came to look for work. It was reported among other passengers that they had left Ireland because an Irish labor leader had convinced them the British government was soon to enforce conscription in Ireland. According to recent mail advices from Dublin the emigration of Irishmen of military service age has been heavier this fall than in many ears, and was giving the authorities some uneasiness.

The "Vaderland," of Amsterdam, in an article from a correspondent behind the German front in Flanders says: "German officers havev a cast iron opinion that Germany will win. Therefore they have disposed of all Europe in advance. After the war there will be a great German union of states, the members of which will have equal rights. Finland, Denmark, Norway, and Sweden, and Holland and England will be subdued or drawn in. Belgium will become a province of Prussia, or at most, a state with strong laws. Alsace-Lorraine will be a state of the union or united with the union. Poland will be a kingdom under the House of Hapsburg. Holland will keep her colonies with trade free from restrictions so far as Germany is concerned."

Four negroes were hanged in Alabama yesterday. Luther Sims and Henry Swanson paid the death penalty at Dadeville for the murder of J. M. Fletcher Turner. The crime resulted in the calling out of State militia to prevent a lynching. Benny Ward and Wash Gray were hanged in Birmingham for the murder of Aaron Pollack, a storekeeper.

Princess Henry of Battenburg, has been informed by the headquarters at the front that her son, Prince Maurice, of Battenburg, whose name appeared in the list of killed made public a few days ago, met death leading his company in an attack. The Prince was struck by a shrapnel bullet from a bursting shell, and died almost immediately afterward.

Two German aeroplanes on Wednesday dropped two bombs at Bethune, France. The first failed to explode, but the second, which fell among market women, killed 19 of them and injured 40 others. Two bombs were also dropped at Dunkirk on the same day from a Taube, machine 9,000 feet up in the air. A woman and child were killed and all the windows in the neigghborhood were smashed. The women of the town are terrified.

Struck by the automobile of Grace Huff, leading woman of the Poli Players, yesterday afternoon at Castle and Fayette street, Baltimore, Hyman Davidson, Jr., six years old, 137 North Washington street, died a short time after being taken to Johns Hopkins Hospital. The child's skull was fractured and his body crushed.

A dispatch from Basel says that the German troops are suffering from hunger and cold. The dispatch says also, that Germany has called upon the 1914 class of reserves, ranging from 17 to 45 years of age and numbering at least 480,000 men.

A Valuable Endorsement.

WILSON SELECTS CARLIN TO SPEAK

Significant Tribute Paid Congressman From 8th District

GOES TO NEW JERSEY.

Helped to Draw Clayton Bill, and Chosen to Explain Anti-trust Legislaion in President's State.

Representative Charles C. Carlin, selected by the President to speak especially for him in New Jersey, left Washington for Jersey City last evening, and will deliver a series of speeches in the territory surrounding the home city of the President's secretary.

Mr. Carlin, who was recognized during the past session of Congress as one of the President's spokesman on anti-trust legislation, is taking the Clayton bill as the chief text of his speeches. Through his work on the judiciary committee, friends of the President fixed upon him as the best qualified man in Congress to explain to the voters in the President's home State the administration's policies as expressed in the new corporation legislation.

Mr. Carlin's trip practically on the eve of election day, is of particular interest to residents of Washington and Alexandria, because his absence at such a time is taken to indicate the confidence the congressman and his friends have in the certainty of his reelection. Although there are in the field against him three candidates it is predicted that he will be returned by one of the largest majorities ever given to him.

One of the most important factors in Mr. Carlin's increased strength with the voters of his district is the ability he has shown, and the prominence that has been given him in national affairs, as a result of the important part he played in fostering the Clayton bill and putting it as a law upon the statute books.

While the measure was being considered by Congress, Mr. Carlin was in almost daily conference with the President and the Attorney General, and this close personal contact was what convinced the President that he had found in Mr. Carlin the man whose grasp of the subject and whose personality made him an ideal speaker for the administration in New Jersey.

The President was at first reluctant to ask Mr. Carlin to desert his own personal campaign but Mr. Carlin immediately explained that he felt it his duty to do whatever the best interests of the administration required. Beginning on Monday, however, at Falls Church, he will start a whirlwind tour, visiting as many places as possible, traveling by both automobile and train. With the exception of one speech, which he delivered at Rosslyn Thursday night, his speaking trip on Monday, embracing 15 hours, will complete the total of all his stump speaking in the district.

A consideration of the great volume of work Mr. Carlin had to put in during the session of the Clayton bill, work which required sometimes 10 hours a day, might create the impression that he had been compelled to neglect the interest of his district. His constituents, however, refute any such theory, for Mr. Carlin's personal attention to even the smallest needs of his district did not relax in the slightest degree. This, coupled with the national reputation he had built up in Congress as a constitutional lawyer, is taken by the politicians as the real explanation of his remarkable strength in his district.

Mr. Carlin, it is understood, intends to take a short trip after the election in order to get a much needed rest.

HALLOWE'EN NIGHT.

Occasion When Grave Yards Yawn And Spooks And Witches Roam at Large.

There will be joy in the air tonight, among the young especially who are wont to celebrate Hallowe'en. Private parties have been planned and there will be masquerades both within and out of doors. The police will, as usual, endeavor to prevent breaches of the peace or the defacing of property by the more mischievous.

The last night of October has been observed as a joyful occasion from time immemorial, and the innocent pleasures which accompany it are participated in by many.

There will be public and private entertainments on Monday also.

GERMANS ARE STILL BEING DEFEATED

Present Desperate Resistance Believed to Cover Withdrawal.

OSTEND EVACUATED.

Kaiser's Losses Said to Have Been Enormous—Tenton Attacks Materially Weakened.

Paris, Oct. 31—Insistent claims that the Germans have at last been defeated in the north and that their present desperate resistance is to cover the withdrawal of their forces from the coast line and to the east of the Ostend-Lille-Arras line were made at military headquarters today.

Ostend has been evacuated.

It was stated that the German resistance has materially weakened between Nieuport and Dixmude, and that most of their big guns, with the exception of those mounted on automobiles and their machine gun equipment have been withdrawn to the rear.

The German losses have been enormous—far greater in proportion than in any previous battle of the war. In order to divert attention from their front in the north it is stated that the enemy is attempting a new offensive along the heights of the Meuse, but that this section is being participated in for the most part by reserve troops and has not the violence of the previous assaults.

The public is cordially invited by Mr. Knight to inspect their large stock of goods from now on until Christmas.

Baggage Car and Three Coaches Topple Down an Embankment.

FOUR FATALLY HURT.

Accident Believed to Have Been Caused by Defective Rail—Surgeons Rushed to Scene.

Binghampton, N. Y., Oct. 31.—Four passengers probably are fatally injured and from fifteen to twenty seriously injured in a derailment of Lacawanna train No. 32 one mile west of Alford, Pa., early today.

The train carrying commuters from this city to Scranton Pa., went over an embankment, owing to a defective rail.

The wreck occurred at a point where there is a switch from the main line on a low cutoff.

The baggage car and three passenger coaches toppled over a fifteen foot embankment, destroying all telegraph wires and cutting off communications.

The injured are being brought to this city on special trains. Fifteen surgeons and half a dozen nurses were sent from here to attend them, some aboard motor ambulances.

The Lacawanna railroad official report says two are dead.

'MOVIES' AT POST BALL.

Artists to Appear in Picture of Grand March at Party Tonight.

Photoplayers from all parts of the United States will be in the moving picture to be taken at Convention Hall Washington tonight, when the artists will assemble for the ball given under the auspices of the Washington Motion Picture Exhibitors' League and The Washington Post. The executive committee of the league announced last night that arrangements had been made to take pictures of the grand carnival march, which will be led by Earle Williams, Clara Kimball Young, and Dr. William B. Herbst, president of the league. All of the players who attend the ball will appear in the march.

The assembly will include some of the most noted players in the country, and the picture will show more prominent photoplayers than have ever been brought together for this purpose before.

The program as announced yesterday will open at 8:15 with an orchestral concert. The orchestra is under the direction of A. J. Manvell. Dancing will begin at 8:30, and will continue for one hour, when the players will be introduced. The grand carnival march will follow. The picture will be taken without interrupting the march, and will show the entire assembly as well as the players. A reception will follow the march, and dancing will then be resumed to continue until midnight. A banquet in honor of the players will be given after the ball by the Washington Motion Picture Exhibitors' League.

Jack o' lantern and confetti dances will be features of the program, but because of the large crowd which is expected to be present spotlight dances have not been placed upon the program.

TRUTHFUL REPORTS.

Alexandria Reads Them With Uncommon Interest.

An Alexandria citizen tells his experience in the following statement. No better evidence than this can be had. The truthful reports of friends and neighbors is the best point in the world. Read and be convinced.

H. C. Smith, tailor, 919 King street, Alexandria, says: "I hope my statement will be the means of getting other sufferers to use Doan's Kidney Pills and be cured as I was. I couldn't begin to tell the agony I endured from my back. I didn't find anything that would cure me until I used Doan's Kidney Pills. They made me well in less than a month and during the past two years, I have had no trouble. The endorsement I gave Doan's Kidney Pills at the time the cure was made holds good."

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES.

Seniors And Juniors Have Merry Time at School Last Night.

One of the merriest times since the Lee School building was erected was had last night in the school, when the Junior class of the High School entertained the Senior class at one of the first and prettiest Hallowe'en masquerades of the season. The sight that met the eyes of the guests as they entered the building was most attractive. The entire back of the hall was covered by branches, oak, maple, and dogwood, standing back of red and gold autumn leaves scattered thickly in front. Large yellow pumpkins gleaming ghastly from their hidden places in this bower of branches completed the Hallowe'en scene.

As soon as all the guests had arrived a message was read to the assemblage from the underworld, requiring that all present should accompany its messengers across the River Styx to determine each and every one's fate. Ghosts came from behind the curtains to the underworld and carried the persons away one by one, and the groans coming from the throats of those already sitting before Pluto showed what was happening to them. As each one safely emerged from this ordeal, they were escorted by other ghosts to the fortune teller, a witch sitting in a grotto of branches and leaves before a huge caldron hanging over a fire of subdued light. Their fates were foretold by this witch and then they removed their masks and went out into the forest scene again, where a little later a procession was formed, marching upstairs to a glorious feast.

Here from the center of a long table a huge pumpkin set in a bed of black and orange was staring. Inside were the choicest fruits of the season, and around the pumpkin were placed the best of things to eat. At one end of the table was the punch bowl resting on the same black and orange as the centerpiece and over the other end were placed Halloween dainties. After supper came singing, playing, and all sorts of fun until the time to leave. Just before the departure of the guests of honor a token of esteem from the Juniors was presented to them. The presentation speech was made by Mr. Fisher, who on behalf of the Junior class gave to the Seniors a small terrapin. It was received by a committee from the class amid much laughter. The following were the members of the graduating class who enjoyed the hospitality of the Juniors: Misses Marian Hayden, Marion Dickert, Lucy Anderson, Susie Murphy, Cora Pullman, and Messrs. Clayton Bowman, Con Mullins, Herbert Byrne, Bruce Morton and John Wenzel.

The program for the next regular meeting of the Literary Society has been announced as follows: Subject for debate, "Resolved, that the United States government should protect the cotton growers in the present cotton crisis." Affirmative, Misses Dolly Calalhan, and Sarah Cox; negative, Misses Mildred Callahan, and Nina Fulton. Declamations: Miss Caroline West, Ashby Bladen, and Elwyn Brawner. The meeting is scheduled for November 7.

The High School eleven left at 8:30 this morning for Charlotte, Hall Md., where they will today play the Charlotte Hall Academy football team. Fourteen men are making the trip. They are accompanied by Mr. Fisher, the coach, and Mr. Blanton, and the manager.

ROOSEVELT WILL NOT DOWN.

Theodore Roosevelt told the students at Princeton in an address yesterday that he had seen the plans of two empires now involved in the European war to capture New York and San Francisco and hold them for ransom, because our standing army is too weak to protect them. He said he hoped the time would come when this country will provide that every man may have to practice in marksmanship and some military training.

At this critical period in the world's history, when the United States is a spectator of the greatest clash of arms in ancient or modern times, Roosevelt is attracting but little attention. Seemingly, he has seen his day, and while his political sun is setting he is laboring hard to keep before the world.

The country is rejoicing over the fact that the Presidential chair at this critical juncture is occupied by a careful and level headed man, and republicans as well as democrats are appreciating the ability of the executive.

Roosevelt says that the object of the European nations, which he fails to name, was to extort money from this country in order to wage the war which is now distracting the world. The improbability of such a procedure must be apparent, for many reasons which could be given.

SPREADING OF THE WAR ZONE.

Indications that Turkey's entrance into the war may lead to a Moslem uprising against Christians developed yesterday, following Turkey's first acts of hostility toward Russia. Great manifestations in favor of a war against Christians are reported to have occurred at Damascus, in Asiatic Turkey and Bedouins are said to be massing along the Egyptian frontier. Fears of a native uprising in India are expressed. The Balkan States, it is believed, are likely to be drawn into the great conflict as a result of Turkey's action, and it is considered probable that the war will be carried into Egypt. Italy is likely to be brought into the list of belligerents in consequence of Turkey's step.

The little cloud no larger than a man's hand which appeared on the horizon after the assassination of the Grand Duke and Duchess of Austria has spread from Servia over a large portion of the habitable globe, and, from present appearances, there is no telling when its course shall have been stayed. Places which were the theatres of great battles in ancient days are likely to have similar scenes reproduced upon them in the near future. The paths trod by Darius, Xerxes, Alexander, Hannibal, Caesar and others of centuries ago are to be used again by soldiers, not, however with slings, shields, and caterpults but the implements and ammunition of the gods, as deadly as those described by the blind poet in his description of the battle between the celetial hosts, lead by Michael, and those of the arch enemy of the human race.

MODERN SPIRIT OF KNOWNOTHINGISM.

It is alleged (and there is considerable smoker) that religion has been interjected into the political fight now in progress in New York. Messrs Glynn and Gerard's religious principles seem to be especially obnoxious to their political opponents. The letter of President Wilson, a Presbyterian ex animo, deploring this condition of things, is published elsewhere in the Gazette.

Three score years ago the United States was rent by a vexatious religious issue. There had also been an Anti-Masonic propaganda which had grown to such dimensions that its leaders nominated candidates for President and Vice President of the United States. The party proved to be a side show, and the members subsequently fused with the republicans and democrats.

While the Knownothing fever was raging riots occurred in different sections, and some of the scenes were as serious as those in connection with the No-Popery disturbances in London a long time before.

Henry A. Wise, of Virginia, later Governor of the Commonwealth, a fearless man and one of the brightest in the country at the time, took the stump and often made open-air speeches in defiance of insults or mobs, and he has always been given the credit of scattering the organization.

The fever raged in Washington, and at times Wise was prevented from speaking by the howls and curses of the adherents to the Knownothing party. The epidemic crossed the Potomac and cases multiplied in Alexandria. Mr. Wise on one occasion delivered an address against the principles of the organization in old Liberty Hall, on the north side of Cameron street, between Royal and Pitt. While the speaker was delivering his hot shot a lodge of Knownothings was in session on another floor in the same building. The courageous manner in which Wise attacked the organization on that occasion will be recalled by some persons now living.

In this land of the free and the home of the brave every man is allowed to worship his Creator in the manner which appeals to his own conscience. Let us hope the United States is not to reproduce an issue of by-gone years ago which it was hoped had been buried forever.

Richmond, Oct. 31.—With the adoption of resolutions thanking all persons who have in any manner assisted in making the convention a success and with the election of officers for the ensuing year, the twentieth annual meeting of the Virginia Branch of the International Order of the King's Daughters and Sons adjourned last night to meet next year in Front Royal.

The final sessions, held in Centenary Methodist Church, yesterday were perhaps the most important of any held since the meetingg began Tuesday night. The officers chosen are:

President, Mrs. Clarence G. Burton, of Richmond.

Recording secretary, Miss Elizabeth Neeley, of Portsmouth.

State treasurer, Mrs. Robert W. Price, of Petersburg.

Central council members, Mrs. Clarence G. Burton, of Richmond; Mrs. George T. King, of Richmond; Mrs. J. N. Gibbs, of Mount Vernon, and Miss Florence Sheppard, of Warrenton.

GETS $1,250 DAMAGES.

Richmond, Oct. 31.—A verdict awarding damages in the sum of $1,250 was Thursday morning returned by a jury in Hustings Court, Par 2, in the suit of J. T. McCormack against the city of Richmond. The plaintiff asked for damages of $10,000. Trial of the case began yesterday morning and a verdict was reached this morning about 11:45 o'clock.

McCormack brought suit for permanent injuries he claimed to have received when he stumbled over a root projecting from a tree that stood near the edge of the sidewalk. In his declaration McCormack alleged that the root extended across the sidewalk at a height of from eight to ten inches.

WAS A CONFEDERATE

Commander of German Army Corps the "Baron of Mosby's Command"

Richmond, Oct 31—General Robert von Massow, now command of the of the Ninth German Army Corps, fought with Colonel John S. Mosby's command during the civil war. From the lips of those who know the distinguished German was as gallant a man as ever went on the field. His purpose in coming to America was to see something of actual war, and that is what he saw—active duty, night and day, riding and fighting. Survivors of Mosby's command recall the "Baron," as they called him and among these is Colonel W. H. Chapman, next in command of Colonel Mosby.

"Lieutenant Robert von Massow came to America in 1863, and he came to Virginia in the fall of that year," said Colonel Chapman, when asked about the distinguished commander of the Ninth German Army Corps. Colonel Chapman continued:

"I always called him Baron Massow. He came to me in Colonel Mosby's absence with a letter from General Stuart, the letter stating that the German officer was here for observation and that he wanted to see some real service. I first met him at Oak Hill, in Fauquier county, and learned that he was an officer in the Prussian army on leave of absence, He wore a seal gray uniform with green trimmings and carried a huge saber. He was a striking handsome man. He was as brave as a lion and he saw service all right and he seemed to enjoy life.

"That first action in which he participated was at Bealton. We were in camp and all at once the enemy showed up. Colonel Mosby gave the order to charge, and right at them we went. General Massow was riding along with me and we were going at top speed in pursuit of the enemy. I had a revolver, a pair of them, in fact and was firing at the enemy as fast as I could. Massow had only his saber, and he was doing his best to cut down a Federal cavalryman."

UNABLE TO FLOAT PAULDING.

Government Turns Work Over to Private Wrecking Company.

Norfolk, Va., Oct. 31.—Unable to float the torpedo boat destroyer Paulding with its powerful tugs and equipment, the Navy Department yesterday turnd the job over to the Merritt Wrecking Company.

While no official reports of the exact figures could be obtained it is said the contract price exceeds $25,-00. The Paulding lies buried in seven feet of sand off Lynn Haven Inlet, where she struck last Tuesday morning during a severe storm. She is reported to have taken no water, but almost her entire port side is dented from coming in contact with the bottom of the inlet.

Captain Simms, commanding the Atlantic flotilla, will have charge of the work while efforts are being made to float the Paulding.

"VOTE AS AMERICANS."

President Wires Protest Against Sectarianism in Politics.

Washington, Oct 31—Through Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo, President Wilson last night appealed to the voters of New York not to permit the issues of the campaign to be clouded by religious antagonisms. His appeal was wired to Secretary McAdoo by Secretary to the President Tumulty. Mr. McAdoo spoke last night at a political meeting in New York and it was intended that he should read the message to his audience.

The telegram read as follows:

The President has requested me to authorize you to use the following in your speech tonight to the Democrats of New York. "Within the last 24 hours I asked the President of the United States if there was any message he would like me to convey to you tonight This is his reply: "I have but one message to convey to New York. It is this— an American citizen should never vote as a sectarian but always as an American citizen. Say this for me." '

The president's telegram was inspired by reports which have reached the White House to the effect that the adherents of Charles S. Whitman, Republican candidate for Governor of New York, are endeavoring to defeat Governor Martin H. Glynn, Democrat, for re-election by stirring up anti-Catholic sentiment. It is charged by the foes of Governor Glynn, that he and the Democratic administration, under the influence of Secretary Tumulty, are "toadying to the Roman Catholic Church."

As a result of this, it is stated in the reports reaching here, that the campaign has resolved itself into a religious controversy. The President himself is a Presbyterian. His friends declare, however, that he has never permitted himself to be drawn into a position where he has been compelled to decide between Catholics and Protestants on any question involving the religion or the political influences of either sect. Secretary Tumulty, though a Catholic, say his friends, has been equally careful to avoid showing partiality one way or another.

Had Lung Trouble and Expected to Die

The many recoveries brought about by Eckman's Alterative are attracting wide attention. Read about this case:—

33 B St., Keyser, W. Va.

"Gentlemen:—I was taken sick in November, 1908. I grew steadily worse. Had two consultations. The verdict was the fever had affected my lungs and that my case was hopeless; only gave me two months to live. My physician had tried most all kinds of treatment and none did me any good, so he asked my husband if he objected to him trying a proprietary medicine. I began your Alterative. I was in bed from November 30, 1908, until February 25, 1909, and was thought dying several times. Today I am healthier and stronger than ever." (Abbreviated.)

(Signed) MRS. H. K. BRILEY.

Eckman's Alterative is most efficacious in bronchial catarrh and severe throat and lung affections and up-building the system. Contains no harmful or habit-forming drugs. Accept no substitutes. Small size, $1; regular size, $2. Sold by leading druggists. Write for booklet of recoveries.

Coal mined in the summer and early fall months is generally more carefully prepared and the supply is more certain at this time than it might be later this year.
